Mysterious, terrifying and frightening

by Bernadette Brand, Switzerland

For many years, strange and odd things have been going on at the FIGU Centre in Hinterschmidrüti, which seem to be incompatible with common sense and which any outsider would immediately say are impossible. Billy and the core group members have kept silent about these incidents so far, because it is obvious that the public assumes that such things can only be caused by a severely disturbed consciousness, which is not only capable of initiating inexplicable phenomena and materializations, but also, in any other respect, must not be taken seriously, since, due to an existing disturbance, it generally tends to fantasies and imaginations. In this respect, the broad masses would probably only consider Billy as the author - and that would be a sure bet for any kind of antagonists and opponents of his work and mission. The proof of his unbelievability, his charlatanism and his stories of lies would finally be proven and all the good that has come and is coming out of his work would be swept off the table and under the famous carpet, as well as all his predictions and warnings about the unhealthy and deadly developments by the overpopulation, which have been fulfilled meticulously for years and whose precise arrival would send shivers of naked horror down the spine of every alert and neutrally observing person. Every single human being who has turned his life upside down and steered it on a good path because of his occupation with the spiritual teaching and his personal implementation of the 'teaching of truth, teaching of the spirit, teaching of life' would be branded as a delusional person who has succumbed to his imagination and has pathologically caused the changes in his life only through faith and self-suggestion. Thousands of people would at a stroke no longer be taken seriously and would be labelled as so-called 'mentally ill' or disturbed in consciousness, regardless of how much good they did in their environment and what they achieved in their lives and changed them for the better.

First and foremost, of course, these mysterious incidents affect Billy and his immediate environment, i.e. his workspace and his work itself. For some time now, they have been occurring sporadically, but recently they have also started to disturb the work of some core group members, if they are related to Billy's work or are to be carried out on Billy's behalf.

Already more than 30 years ago there were first isolated incidents that seemed somehow inexplicable, be it that Billy suddenly had inexplicable problems with his computer or its keyboard or that single words or parts and later whole sentences disappeared or were changed from his computer. When he talked about this in the kitchen or at meetings, various KG members would throw meaningful glances at each other or lower their eyes and look at themselves in doubt, for instance in the sense of <Now he definitely ties us a bear - he must have mistyped or accidentally deleted a word or a sentence>. It was benevolently assumed that in his concentration on the work he hadn't noticed that he had accidentally marked a word or a part of a sentence and then erased it by mistake or in a hurry made a wrong manipulation. In any case, it took some time before the core group members began to take his explanations seriously. It was not until a little more than 10 years ago, when the proofreaders in the work <Delusion and Delusional Disease> noticed the first significant errors that appeared throughout the entire book and that had to be picked out and corrected again and again in the manuscript in various correction steps, that a change in thinking began very slowly. In Billy's first manuscript, he often used the terms 'Creator-God' and 'God-Creator', which were perceived and, if necessary, marked by the proofreaders during the first pre-corrections, but then suddenly the terms were missing during the second correction (see chapter 'Strange Incident', page 253 in the book).

Slowly the mysterious changes in Billy's contact reports, articles and books began to accumulate. Sometimes only a few letters were missing, or they were changed and resulted in a different meaning, other times words or phrases were missing. Gradually the changes became more and more extensive and conspicuous, and always concerned either spiritual teachings, overpopulation or explanations about religions, and these falsifications and changes were particularly significant in the contact reports. And the more openly Billy spoke about the grievances on our earth and their causes, the more frequent and perfidious the interventions became.

These annoying disturbances then reached a completely new dimension on 7 November 2015, at 9.49 a.m., when Billy revised the old preamble to the Federal Constitution and adapted it to the new era and its requirements. While he was still writing, Arabic characters suddenly appeared in his computer, even though it did not have a corresponding font, which Billy would not even need. The contents of the characters were: "In the name of Allah, the Merciful, the Compassionate." (See <Plejadic-Plejaric contact reports>, block 14, page 383 ff.)

A little more than a year later, on 4 December 2016, in Billy's absence, the internet turned on seemingly independently, after which he found a 46-page religious-sectarian article on his screen. About this and about various other incidents, he told Ptaah the following on December 5, 2016

"Then everything's fine, except for what always happens with my computer, like yesterday. In the evening I left the computer to watch the news on TV in the living room over there, after which I watched a crime movie with Eva. But I left my computer in the office switched on, but only in the local state, because I haven't worked via the central computer system for several years now, but only locally, because again and again, when I was just connected to the central computer, I was maliciously bungled into my work from outside. As you know, my written texts were sometimes simply rewritten in the computer sentence by sentence, half-page or full-page, or entire passages of sentence were deleted. Also, foreign things were inserted into my written articles etc., such as a prayer to Allah in Arabic language and writing, although I do not have Arabic characters in my computer. And this has happened since 2001 and again and again until today, although you have taken all kinds of precautions to stop it all. Unfortunately, however, this has not helped in this respect, nor has it helped in the sense that time and again, and even today, very strange things happen, which are simply inexplicable and which occur even in the direct presence of group members who can testify to this. They are simply inexplicable occurrences that should not be told out loud, otherwise one would be called a nutcase, sick in the head and a madman, because nobody understands the whole thing and so it cannot be understood by anyone. That's why it's actually better not to talk about it, but recently the incidents have been increasing again, which is why I have to talk about it again. For two months now, a window has been constantly appearing on the computer screen, stating that the computer databases have been damaged and that the computer could be damaged as a result. In addition, my writing is being messed up, as I have been doing since 2001, which means that whole passages of text disappear, while on the other hand words are simply deformed by having too many or too few letters in them. And this can happen 20-30 times on an A4 page. But now back to last night, when I came back to the office at about 11 pm and wanted to get back to my work on the computer, the internet was switched on, but not by myself, because I didn't use it at all yesterday. So there is only the possibility that my computer was hacked into from outside and a religious-sectarian article was inserted, which was 46 A4 pages long and declared as follows

16.11.2010 (note current date) I Am Love Droplet of God

from the heavenly source Message of 21.09.2010

Nonsense that appeared in the computer:
I am the love droplet of God...

Billy and Uëli in front of the screen of Billy's computer

A few days later, on December 24, 2016, the following text appeared on Billy's screen
(following uncorrected transcription)

24.12.2016, 1.18 h

you are a blasphemer and a liar against our God and our faith, and for this we will and kill you, but our God will also punish you and send you to hell because he won't be taken care of.

It should be noted that negative influences and disturbances of this kind occur more intensively and particularly penetratingly in Christian high times such as Christmas, Easter, Pentecost etc., so that Billy often says with a sigh: "It's just the holy days again.

Unfortunately, so much has happened in the meantime that it is no longer possible to summarize everything in a single article, because that would - meticulously arranged chronologically - fill a book. There is hardly a day that passes when Billy can simply go about his work quietly, undisturbed by negative influences, unless he limits himself to answering private correspondence or other private work on the computer. Especially with the book manuscripts and the contact reports, the highest attention and almost detective-like sophistry is required to track down the perfidious and insidious interventions. Fortunately, we now know Billy's word melody and sentence sequences so well that we often recognize at first glance when the tone of a passage changes, when a sentence suddenly takes a strange turn, when a sentence end is missing or when a sentence run is not logically structured. In such cases, the utmost attention is required, for it is quite possible that one might otherwise stumble over the beginning of a nasty falsification or a major omission. But more about that later.

From the beginning of June 2017 on, other phenomena occurred again, namely materializations of objects, some of which appeared before the eyes of present core group members as well as before Ptaah and Florena. The first object was a small cloth rose, as known in religious folk art from peasant devotional boxes, cribs, fats (devotional picture in the form of an infant wrapped in ribbons) or monastic works. During the 701st contact on February 1, 2018, a ring, two brooches and two small jewels, one green and one red, materialized in the presence of Ptaah. Coins, rings, pins, small gems, which led to the following dialogue:

Ptaah

34. ...Eh...

35. What's that? ...

36. Where do these things fall on your desk from?

BillyWell, I was just about to talk to you about that. Maybe it was my thoughts that caused this to happen right now, with you sitting next to me. What has just now fallen onto the table from a brighter light corresponds to the same phenomenon to which these six coins, the ring and the little rose here under the monitor also belong. And these things here - they are pieces of jewellery, as you can see, and which surprise you because they fell onto the table in front of me - are now obviously also part of the other pieces that I have under the monitor. I have told you several times already that from time to time coins etc. simply fall onto my desk in front of me, just like now, now that you have been able to observe it yourself. Somehow the things must materialize directly in front of my face and fall onto the table, because if they were to fall from higher up, like from the lamp, they would probably fly around because they would bounce strongly from a great height and be hurled away. So they can't materialize more than 15-20 centimeters in front of my face and fall onto the table. Look here, now my collection has increased by two small cut gemstones, a tiny red and a bigger green stone, another ring with a cut light stone and two different brooches, so I now have 13 such objects. Wait, I put this one on a paper handkerchief ... so, now you can admire the whole thing better.

Ptaah

37. Strange, something like what has just happened, which I have just seen and experienced myself, is incomprehensible to me.

38. You have probably told me about it several times already and also let me see the coins, the ring and the little rose, but I did not think about it.

39. But that I could now witness such an event myself, that not only amazes me, but astonishes me and could almost make me doubt my reason and my reason.

40. In this way, how it happens, and where nothing is recognizable - just how, from where and why it happens - the whole thing is absolutely mysterious and inexplicable to me.

Three days later, at the 702nd contact on February 4, 2018, Florena, who was duly startled by this, was killed, Witness such materialization, just as Billy began to speak, when before her eyes a 200-Franken note fell on his desk:

Billy I think so, too, and we could do without such things, because it always manages like ... oh, again, and I thought that it ended with the number 13. But you're scared, and now you're making a face like a big question mark. You shouldn't be frightened, because on the one hand there is probably no danger involved, and on the other hand you get used to it.

Florena

8. ...which is weird and really scared me.

9. Ptaah told us about his experience, but we could not imagine what he had explained.

10. And that I now saw and experienced myself how suddenly something materialized in front of your face and fell onto the work table, that scared me after all.

11. What is this, and how does something like this come about?

Billy Unfortunately I do not know that either, so I cannot explain it. ...

Since this materialization on February 4, 2018, nothing comparable has happened until today. It seems as if the manifestations in question have been stopped because they could not make a deeper impression on Billy, nor on the core group members who witnessed such events, nor on Ptaah or Florena in the form of a profound horror and/or an intended change in behaviour.

The collected items, which are displayed on various dates in front of Billy's face materialized and fell onto his desk, with witnesses present in some cases.

Meanwhile, however, the foreign-language insertions in Billy's computer continued in a cheerful and fresh way. So on October 26, 2017, another line of Arabic writing appeared in a new book manuscript by Billy, about which he told Ptaah the following: "But look here, this was maneuvered back into my computer a few days ago, on October 26, 2017, 00:19 a.m., when I was writing my new book 'Self-Determination'. The consequence of this insertion into my text - there were six pages that I had worked out as a sequel - was that the whole writing disappeared without a trace from my computer, so I had to write and encode the whole thing again. This time the inserted text was as follows:

"In the end, however, they will have to understand and learn ... and be careful that the degenerates will spread peace and inner freedom on earth, and they will have to be able to do everything that this old direction of the world no longer belongs to them. 26 October 2017, 00.19 h; In the name of Allah, the Merciful, the Compassionate"

Three days later, on October 29, 2017, when Billy called up the 692nd contact report in the evening, the following text suddenly appeared on his screen again in Arabic characters: "Faith is a billionfold energy and power of God, but unbelief is in ... sevenfold damnation and punishment, and all resistance is blasphemy, leads to banishment, ostracism and condemnation and Jahannam (Arabic: Ġahannam. the name for 'hell' in Islam) will be the place of retribution."

On 1 June 2018 the following happened, what Billy told on July 29, 2018 at the 709th contact at the urging of Ptaah and Quetzal:

Billy... The whole thing happened on June 1st, down in Tablat, but there is a short prehistory to it, which begins with the fact that for years an older man has been going several times a week with two small ponies from Grosswil to Wila and back. He always leads the small pony on his left side and the bigger one on his right side. Since this always pleases me when Eva and I pass by on our way to our shopping tour, I decided to donate some of the food for the ponies to the man, always remembering to approach him from the left side, just left of his small ponies, because I had already learned from Sfath and also in agriculture to always approach animals of all kinds from the left side. At

1. In June the opportunity for my project arose, so Eva stopped the car about 30 meters before the man with the ponies and I got out of the car, which I still realized, but then had a 'blackout'. When I was able to think clearly again, I was lying in the meadow about three meters from the road and had enormous pain in my right shoulder and upper arm. As it turned out, I had, contrary to my knowledge, will and my usual behaviour, always approached living beings on the left side, approached the man with the two ponies head-on, who had tied the two animals together and led them left and right by his hands. The result was that the ponies tore themselves away from the man's hands and ran into the meadow, naturally dragging me along and throwing me away because they were tied together. The pain was really enormously strong, which is why Eva drove me without hesitation to the Cantonal Hospital in Winterthur, where I was told at the first examination that the arm was dislocated and would therefore have to be put back into place. So I knew what to expect, because I had already undergone such a procedure at the age of 20 when I dislocated my right arm as a result of a fall down a staircase. Then, however, an x-ray of my shoulder and upper arm was taken at the Winterthur hospital, where it became apparent that not only was the arm dislocated, but the axillary ball was also shattered and the humerus bone underneath it was broken, whereupon I was fitted with a cuff to stabilize the upper arm and the displaced axillary joint. Afterwards, the head physician recommended an operation to install a new upper arm joint or a new ball and socket joint made of titanium, i.e. a shoulder joint or a ball and socket joint with a socket on the shoulder blade and a ball on the upper arm. The joint cartilage naturally covers both the socket and the ball of the joint and thus allows the joint surfaces to slide optimally. Later, when I had to discuss the procedure, the assistant surgeon explained the exact circumstances and the risks of the operation, stating that there was only a 30 percent certainty that everything would be 'fine'. And according to his explanation, the risk was really high because, on the one hand, I would not have had to lie down for this operation, but would have had to be operated half-sitting, as a result of which the transport of blood from the heart to the brain would have been much more difficult than if I had just been lying down. So the assistant surgeon clearly said that with the 30 percent certainty of success - on the one hand due to the circumstances of the operation, on the other hand with regard to my aorta-heart condition - I would have been able to continue with the operation.

valve operation in 2015 - would really have a great risk to survive the operation. If not enough blood is pumped into the brain, 30 to 60 seconds would be enough for an exit. He has also given me some of this information in writing, in particular with regard to the further risks if the operation is successful. For example, it says here in this protocol, firstly, that there is a risk of coma and, secondly, of cardiovascular collapse, which means that I could probably have taken the black box and the screws with me straight away and then screwed them down. The third risk was an arm amputation, while in the fourth place something was explained which I have forgotten and which I cannot decipher here on this explanatory note. But what was written in this protocol, I can read out briefly:

The fact that this prognosis refers to the 'left', i.e. the left arm, whereas in reality it is the right arm, can be ignored. And what is referred to as 'fracture of the humerus left in several parts' means that the ball of the joint is effectively fragmented and the upper arm is broken directly below it.

Without surgery: functional disorder, chronic pain, malposition, circulatory disorder of the individual fragments, head necrosis.

So this is the prognosis when an operation is rejected. For this purpose I have searched the internet, which is to be understood in relation to head necrosis, for which I have found the following and now know that there is also a hip head necrosis, but in my case a humeral head necrosis is meant:

- 1. Humeral head necrosis or humeral head necrosis is the death of bone from the humeral head - often for unknown reasons and to varying degrees. As a result, the bone of the humeral head becomes soft and less stable in the stress zone. As a result, the surface and the cartilage on the surface of the head of humerus deform - to varying degrees. This is how the joint breaks down.*
- 2. The pain in the upper arm slowly increases over weeks and months. It is felt in the shoulder or upper arm and tortures those affected even at night. Over time, the pain-causing relieving posture can lead to a restriction of movement of the shoulder and even to stiffness of the shoulder. A cracking and/or rubbing sensation may occur in exceptional cases. In most cases, however, the disease is then already further advanced.*
- 3. If left untreated, the course of humeral head necrosis or humeral head necrosis leads to destruction and deformation of the humeral head. Due to the circulatory disorder, the bone softens and is no longer strong enough. The bone deforms and the humeral head is rounded off. This ultimately leads to wear and tear in the shoulder joint - with corresponding rubbing, pain, inability to use and restricted movement.*
- 4. If left untreated, in humeral head necrosis the bone softens more and more as a result of the circulatory disorder in the humeral head. This means that it becomes less stable and its surface sinks in. It becomes deformed. As a result, the shoulder joint no longer runs smoothly, resulting in abrasion of the cartilage/bone in the shoulder. As a result, the pain in the shoulder usually worsens over time and with increasing humeral head necrosis. In an X-ray or CT/magnetic resonance tomogram, the increasing rounding of the humeral head and narrowing of the shoulder joint space can be seen. As a consequence, the shoulder joint becomes increasingly stiff and the destruction and pain in the shoulder becomes so obvious that an artificial shoulder joint (shoulder prosthesis) is necessary.*

According to this explanatory protocol, this is therefore predicted in the case without surgery and without the insertion of an artificial joint ball and a new titanium joint socket, although the following is stated here with regard to surgery:

With surgery: Various procedures possible (reconstruction, anatomical partial prosthesis, inverse prosthesis). The aim is to achieve the best possible function and freedom from pain while maintaining independence.

Treatment alternatives:

No surgery: chronic pain and shoulder stiffening likely

Partial prosthesis: A worse function is to be expected

Reconstruction: Not recommended due to the fracture pattern (restricted blood circulation, avital bone parts)

Operation:

1. Reaching the humeral head, opening the rotation interval and dropping the long biceps tendon
2. Removal of the head fragments, the bony beginnings of the musculature are looped
3. Adjusting the ladle and preparing for the ladle component
4. Attach these components with screws (cementless) in the correct orientation
5. Preparation of the upper arm shaft (medullary cavity)
6. Cementing in the shaft component
7. Reduction of the prosthesis and refixation of the prepared tubercle, relining with own bone
8. Possible fixation of the long biceps tendon
9. Possibly Redon drainage, layered wound closure
10. Dry dressing and abduction pad

Possible general complications:

1. Bruising with necessary reoperation is rare
2. Infection local - mostly joint involvement - follow-up surgery necessary
3. Wound healing disorders, thrombosis and pulmonary embolism

Possible operation-specific complications:

1. Nerve damage or irritation due to surgical accesses, in this case especially the axillary nerve (explanation in the Internet excerpt: The axillary nerve ['axillary nerve'] is a nerve of the brachial plexus. In humans it has its roots in the spinal cord between the 5th and 7th neck segment (C5-C6), in domestic animals in C6-C8)
2. Rare injury to blood vessels or nerves leading into the arm
3. Long-term possible restriction of movement in the shoulder joint, loosening of the prosthesis, prosthesis luxation
4. Fracture during surgery or later (periprosthetic fracture), acromion fracture
5. Occasionally, there is excessive bone resorption with severe inflammation and pain (complex regional pain syndrome)

Special risk factors of the patient EAM:

1. Coma,
2. HK (cardiovascular failure),
3. Amputation,
4. ...??? (cannot be read/deciphered)

Specific comments:

A loss of function of the shoulder often remains

So this is the description of the specialist's explanation of the operation regarding my accidental injury, whereby the operation was scheduled for Monday, 19 June 2018, at 11.30 a.m. However, when the assistant surgeon later explained the risks of the operation to me, I had strange thoughts and feelings that made me decide not to have the operation. And that's it, because since then I have been trying to get the arm under control again by doing all kinds of movement exercises myself and achieving good results, because as you can see, I can move the arm quite well.

Ptaah

68. Your mobility with your arm amazes me very much, because what you are able to do is actually not possible after only two months after the accident, and in addition every movement should cause you great pain.

BillyYou have also seen during your visits in the last time that I have done movement exercises again and again and that I have experienced great pain every time, but I think that I can only use my arm again and make it work if I can bear the pain and do not let up on the movement exercises. So I just don't pay attention to them and just let them go crazy, even if it's hard sometimes, but the main thing is that the arm becomes movable again, no matter if the pain sometimes almost makes my brain burst.

Quetzal

66. What you have read out of the Enlightenment Protocol is a barbaric bungling, but not medical knowledge and skill.

BillyYou forget that I live here on earth and that the medical knowledge of the earthlings is still far behind what is common practice among you Plejars.

Quetzal

67. That is of course so, but still it is barbaric and bumbling, and I wonder how you can get along with it.

Ptaah

69. He makes his own medicine by behaving mentally correct and also doing everything necessary according to his own possibilities.

70. Of course I know that, but nevertheless it amazes me again and again how Eduard copes with such events that affect him and also copes with great pain, which in the case of a serious injury must really be very disabling.

BillyYou shouldn't start talking shop about it, and besides, everything that you wanted to know has been said and explained. So there should be enough said and explained, including that I don't need to be told how long the pain will last for months and I have to keep on doing exercises to get my arm back in shape.

Ptaah

71. Of course, but how you can move and use your arm again two months after the accident, without professional medical intervention and help, is still more than just amazing to me.

Apparently, there was now an attempt to directly harm Billy in the form of putting him in a situation where he could no longer work, if the background or the goal was not even that he should lose his life. In any case, even today, a little more than 11 months later, he still has great problems writing on the computer, even if he trivializes them and just grits his teeth and holds out. He rarely talks about the fact that violent and painful cramps repeatedly enter his hand and arm, even if he sometimes makes only small involuntary movements, and he hardly mentions the fact that he can no longer sleep on his right side because of severe pain in his arm and shoulder. Hardly anyone can estimate how many sleepless nights the pain caused by his injury still causes him. More and more it seems as if unknown forces want to make his work impossible for him, after it has not been possible to make him impossible due to undiscovered mistakes in his writings and contact reports and to convict him of lies and charlatanism or to portray him as crazy and insane. Since all attempts to prevent the emergence of the truth and to attack Billy in such a way that he gives up his work in an annoyed and angry way because he simply repels the disturbing forces that are trying to attack him personally, the interventions in his work became worse and worse and the threats that sometimes appear on his screen did not stop either.

The most recent of these appeared on his screen on 11 April 2019 at 13.41 hrs. It is written in Albanian (as I was able to find out using the Google translation tool), comes from a Teresa and reads as follows "Unë jam Teresa, e shenjtë, dhe ju jeni blasfemues, ju do të lrioden dhe vdesin për të"; according to the Google translations, there are two versions of this, either in the literal, unchanged translation: "I am Teresa, holy, and you are the blasphemer, you are the one who dies and dies for you.", or in a further variant adapted from the Google tool: "I'm Teresa and I sanctify myself, and you are blasphemous, you will go and die for you." An acquaintance of Billy's, who is Albanian himself and a native Albanian, translated the sentence

"I am Teresa, and holy, and you are a blasphemer, and you will be punished and you will die."

Worst so far are the new interventions in Sfath's predictions of June 14, 1947, which Ptaah picked out for Billy from the annals of his father Sfath and provided to Billy at the 717th contact of April 4, 2019. Fortunately, Ptaah has been personally checking the contact reports since the beginning of 2019, since the counter-reading with Billy, Ptaah and me, Bernadette, had to be stopped because I was away from the center several times for a few weeks for health reasons. So during his control work he stumbled upon the fact that in the aforementioned predictions not only whole passages were falsified, but also that many pages were missing, which Billy had however retrieved and written down. Sometimes whole passages or pages disappeared right in front of Billy's eyes, never to be seen again, even though everything he writes is saved several times very closely. Since the missing texts had also disappeared from the memories, Billy had no choice but to recall everything again. As usual, he gave me the newly retrieved text - which was now a full nine pages longer - for pre-correction, although I noticed that three sections were reproduced in a different place in the predictions. In addition, I found a section in the newly brought in text where all alarm bells rang in my head after the first words. It was immediately clear to me that something had been manipulated here (the falsified passage is shown here in bold, while the original prediction is in italics):

So it will be the impetuous striving for profit without effort and work on the one hand what leads man to crime, on the other hand it will also lead him to disregard human life and he will murder and destroy it without hesitation when an adversary gets in his way. Every profound reverence for life has been dwindling for centuries and will be lost more and more, even though it should be the fundamental basis of a truly humane and valuable culture. In place of reverence, the majority of humanity will experience a crisis of authority which will lead to a nefarious self-centredness and disorientation towards life, as well as to a profound poisoning of human relationships, thus undermining any true community.

These things, it seems to us, should be on our minds now more than ever, especially in the area of education of the younger generation. It is not enough to complain about the reduction in the number of adolescents, but more than ever we must look for higher values and also communicate these values to young people. Not only the Church, but also the school is called, in this time of materialistic satiety, to a spiritual and ethical leadership role of which it may not always be sufficiently aware. The growing serious criminality in an epoch of unheard-of material prosperity is a warning signal that calls on all leading circles to self-reflection.

Many wars, terror, destruction and annihilation will mark the future, with thousands of deaths and hundreds of thousands of people being murdered, while through the fault of the tremendously increasing overpopulation all laws of nature will be forced out of their order. A great deal of the planet and nature will be destroyed and irreparably devastated. Also the atmosphere and the climate will be affected in such a way that the whole of nature will rise up and bring ominous catastrophic effects. Thunderstorms such as those that occurred in the early days of the earth will increase through the fault of man, and will bring about ever more violent hailstorms, storms and floods of rain as well as enormous floods, just as the planetary sun protection layer (note Billy: ozone layer) will be very dangerously damaged and will cause skin ulcers (note Billy: skin cancer) in people. Also the eternal frost (note Billy: permafrost) will dissolve and release dangerous frozen toxic gases (note Billy: methane), as well as the mountains will fall down and avalanches will be triggered.

However, the falsified section (shown in bold above) was as follows:

<Instead of reverence - in this way the future will be worse than it has been for some time and even today - people will no longer think of honour and dignity, but more than ever before that these values are superfluous and worthless>.

For illustration purposes, I also include here a short paragraph from Sfath's predictions of June 14, 1947, which clearly shows the falsifications and changes or deletions in the text, whereby the changed places are also marked in bold and the correct text is shown in italics:

"In the future, many believers in religion and sects will officially give up their religion or sect, but on the one hand only in order to escape the murderous terrorist army, their new delusional beliefs or for the sake of adventure. But on the other hand they will keep their old delusional faith despite the adopted new faith and its dogmas and forms of belief will remain submissive and will preserve them. That is why they will continue to disregard the natural creative laws, not obey them and therefore prefer darkness to light and will not turn to the real and its truth. From this, they will come to the conclusion that death is better than life, which is why they will do in a completely erroneous way the same way as many of the human beings on earth who no longer look at the security of life, but will prefer dying, be it through direct suicide or through indirect suicide in connection with acts of war or terrorism".

A little further back in the text I found an obviously incomplete sentence, where the conclusion of more than two lines was missing, which I of course immediately informed Billy, after which he brought the relevant passages back in again. Of course, after 72 years, he could no longer fully remember the content of Sfath's predictions, so of course, when retrieving the predictions that Ptaah had provided for him, he did not notice that some pages were still missing. But Ptaah noticed this and immediately checked the second time the prediction was called up again and noticed that at the end of the predictions some pages were missing again, which he of course pointed out to Billy, who of course tried to call up the missing pages immediately - but it didn't happen, because what Billy wanted to call up was simply blocked so that he couldn't get a single letter in. Fortunately, however, he was able to reach the Plejars, whereupon Ptaah in turn turned to the Sonaans, who actually managed to circumvent the blockade and allow Billy to retrieve the missing pages after all, albeit at a much reduced speed.

Besides these perfidious machinations at Billy, mysterious incidents have been occurring on my computer for quite some time, be it that corrections disappeared or that files Billy put on the server for me were either changed or no longer available. Corrections also disappeared or were changed. Bit by bit strange occurrences occurred not only with me but also with other core group members like Piero, for example, who loaded a time signal for the month of July onto Billy's data stick in order to download the text both at the printing plant and on his own computer, because he sends the time signal to the KG members by mail before it is published on our website. For the print shop he had printed the time signal additionally and deposited it as a receipt in the input box of the print shop. When it was time to print the voucher copies of the time signal, the data from the printer's computer had disappeared as well as the printout that Piero had put in the input box. When Piero then wanted to prepare the PDF for sending by mail, he discovered that the data was not on his computer and had also disappeared from the data stick, although he is no longer sure whether he had actually downloaded the data to his Mac. But even if this was not the case, there's no denying that the data disappeared from both the printer's computer and the data stick, just as the printout practically vanished into thin air.

Piero was also one of the first core group members who witnessed the strange events at a very early stage. In 1989 we decided to install a sun blind over the seat in front of the main entrance because we wanted to have a shady seat in the summer. As usual in the core group, we collected for the amount the sun blinds would cost. Piero, who at that time was about to join the core group or had just joined it (he was admitted to the KG on July 1, 1989), joined forces with one of his friends, Sepp Hirtel, and the two of them donated 800 francs, which Piero handed over to Billy at the end of June or beginning of July in 100-franc notes in an envelope. Piero had carefully counted the amount beforehand and was bombproof that there were 800 francs in the envelope. Billy accepted the envelope with thanks and brought it immediately to his office, where he counted the money himself again before he wanted to put it in the safe. However, Billy was then missing CHF 100, which led to the following dialogue, which Piero described to me from memory: Billy: "There were only CHF 700 in the envelope. Piero: "No, Billy, it's 800 francs." Billy, after he disappeared into the office again and counted the money a second time: "It's only 700 francs, Piero." Piero: "No, Billy, it's really 800 francs. I counted the amount myself when I put it in the envelope. It was eight hundred bills." Billy goes back to the office and counts the amount again: "Well, I really only have 700 francs in the envelope, and I checked to see if two notes stuck together. Piero: "No, Billy, certainly not, it's really 800 francs." Billy goes back to the office and counts the amount one more time - and now it's really correct. Which led to great relief on all sides, but also to a big question mark. What might have happened? That Billy had counted inaccurately or that Piero wanted to cheat can absolutely be excluded. Just as surely it can be excluded that Piero wanted to screw Billy. Since the riddle was not solvable for the moment, we simply left the incident in the room, and that also because everything was fine in the end. Little by little, however, more and more mysterious incidents like this and similar ones, but also quite different ones, whose explanation was still a long time in coming, although Billy and some core group members soon had a suspicion, but it couldn't be proven and seemed almost unbelievable to us, which is why we kept silent about it.

Patric Chenux has been making his monthly budget together with Billy for years, and strange things have happened to him too, about which he has the following to report:

Billy and I made my budget in his office about 4 years ago, in 2015. At the end of 2018, Billy and I sat in his small but nice office, like every month at the end of a month, to make my budget. Since we had counted, stacked, counted and counted the notes very conscientiously and had them lying in front of us on the table next to each other, we couldn't understand that suddenly there was simply a 500-franc note missing, which was still there at that time and which was bigger than all the other notes. So we counted all the notes 4 more times, taking great care that no two notes were stuck together. - But we always came to the same unsatisfactory result, namely that a 500 franc note was missing! But when we counted the money for the 5th time, all the 500.- franc notes were there again, and it remained there, which did not change when we counted it twice more. That I or Billy could have taken a banknote off the table was absolutely impossible, as was that one could have fallen to the floor.

Pius Keller also had strange and mysterious experiences in 2018, when he and Billy made his monthly budget, about which he tells the following:

Because Billy (BEAM) had to change large bank notes of mine, he took out of the cashier's desk 50.-franc notes, which he needed to change the large notes and which he had stapled together in bundles of 10 notes of Fr. 50.-francs each with paper clips. He placed several of these bundles of money on the small fold-out table where we each make my monthly budget.

Of course, for the sake of order and conscientiousness, we counted the individual 50 franc notes together and put them back together again in bundles of 10 notes, i.e. at CHF 500 on top of each other. Together we arrived at the correct amount the first time we counted them. We counted the money right at the beginning - because Billy wants it that way and it is his duty to do everything exactly. The total amount of the bundles of 50 notes and thus also every single note of 50 Swiss Francs was exactly right. And, as Billy always wants, he insisted, as usual, on counting all the money that was lying openly on the table in front of us - you could have miscounted - twice more. So we did it as he wanted us to do, whereby of course everything was in order and the total amount of money was correct. But then the second check followed and - we don't know how, because now one of these stacks of 10 x 50 franc notes had simply disappeared without a trace, so to speak before our eyes, without us noticing it.

So, as is in keeping with Billy's thoroughness, we first counted the entire amount very accurately for safety's sake, and everything was in perfect order, and so it was with the second check. But then it happened, because as if out of the blue and completely inexplicable, a bundle of Fr. 500, i.e. a bundle of 10 50 note bills, was suddenly missing. So we carefully searched the table, also on the floor and all around the office, although it was clear to us that we would not find the missing bundle of money.

Conclusion of the whole thing: Billy went wordlessly to the cash box, came back with a new bundle of money and simply replaced the missing or the CHF 500.00 out of his own pocket without comment, so that I could pay my monthly bills after all. And this was a gesture that I found admirable and that touched me very much.

Ulrich Nangué, who is often called out of bed at night by Billy when mysterious things happen in Billy's computer, also has strange things to tell:

Around mid-June 2018, I witnessed strange things happening in Billy's office, especially in his computer. This is just an attempt to explain the events as they happened, without any interpretation of my own:

He told me about another equally mysterious incident, similar to Patric's, which had happened even after he had also made the monthly budget together with Billy, in which in the same mysterious way 500 francs also disappeared, but this time as a 50 note money pile. In contrast to this my money, which disappeared without a trace and never reappeared, the missing 500 note was suddenly back in the stack of money on the table at the 5th recount.

Over the last year I was called to Billy's house again and again because something was wrong with his computer. One of the most common problems Billy has is that very often he can't access his own files anymore because he allegedly has no authorization to do so, something I have never seen in my whole life as a computer scientist. Normally the user has no rights to access the directories of other users, but to have no rights to the own files in one's own directory contradicts the rights allocation system in computer science. And this happens often and usually just when Billy is writing something important.

Another event that I can't date was very strange: a strange text appeared on the screen in the text editor, and Billy said that he suddenly appeared in the middle of the article while he was writing. The text or page in question could not be printed. When the document was sent to the printer, only a blank page came out. There was a text on the screen, but it could not be printed. I had never experienced anything like this before.

Another event: One day Billy called me because he had a problem, his entire own folder had been deleted. When I came to the office, Atlantis had already created a new folder from the backup, but the traces were still visible, namely that from a time about 6 hours earlier, Billy's own folder was no longer visible and had actually disappeared without a trace. Billy's own, disappeared folder could not be found in the trash or anywhere else. Even by accidental deletion, the folder should have been found in the trash, which was not the case. Finally, Daniel and Piero were able to fix the problem and restore the folders.

An own proof: Up to now I could blame the events on possible computer errors and operating errors, so these possibilities were still open. In other words, the events could easily have been explained by misuse and improper operation, until the moment when something happened that left me speechless: Up to now I had trusted Billy's statements, but I had no proof that it was what he said it was. One day Billy called me into the office because his folder suddenly had a different name that he himself had not written. When I checked the backup history, I saw that the folder had indeed been renamed from one moment to the next. After looking at it, I closed the backup window with Cancel, and the 'icon' of the personal folder on the desktop was suddenly somewhere else without me clicking anything. Normally, icons do not move by themselves unless they are clicked or moved through the View menu. I hadn't done either, but the 'icon' had moved while I was looking at the backup. During that time, no one else had touched the computer but me. This allowed me to deduce that there are forces at work here that are always changing something in Billy's computer.

Witness to an equally strange incident was our newest core group member, Michael Voigtländer, on February 23, 2019, who experienced the following, which he recorded in a short article published in the 715th Contact Report, and about which Billy said the following to Ptaah before:

"You and also some members of the KG have experienced and learned by themselves what strange things and incidents happen in my workroom, as it was just like that when I let Michael read two pages from the last report of the conversation on the computer. It was just something that Zafenatpaneach had explained and that was not exactly religion- and delusional faith-friendly, which is why it was made to disappear again, as it has become usual since the independently activated sectarian vibrations and their impulses again and again maliciously erase everything that is directed against the religious delusion of the earthlings, consequently I have to write everything again or two or even three times.

Short report on an incident in Billy's office

A few days ago I was sitting late at night in Billy's office and we were talking about the possible nature of that energy that causes extremely strange incidents in his office and on his computer. In this context, Billy was kind enough to open a contact report in his computer and ask me to read Zafenatpaneach's statement regarding this energy. It was a longer answer, so Billy offered me a chair and I sat down next to him and left the two-page answer in his computer. Billy marked the text in blue so I could read it better because I had to read with his glasses because I forgot mine and therefore didn't have them with me.

The answer was so long that Billy had to move the text two or three times upwards with the mouse (in new German: weiterscrollen). The last time he moved the text up, I could still see the end of the answer on the last half page, and there were only a few sentences left to read. Billy let go of the mouse and pulled his hand back, but no sooner had he leaned back in his chair and his hand was already about 30 centimeters away from the mouse, while I was looking at the monitor, the entire two-page text suddenly disappeared before my eyes in the computer within a split second and for no apparent reason.

Astonished, I looked at the monitor and waited for a moment, expecting that the text would appear again, which did not happen. After a few seconds I pointed it out to Billy, so he turned back to the computer and searched for the text, but it was completely gone and could not be found. Not only had the marked text disappeared completely, but the entire file had disappeared! Billy had only let go of the mouse, not pressed any key and pulled his hand back, nothing more. According to my observation and my attention, Billy did nothing that could explain the disappearance of the file. The computer had not crashed, but was still running and fully functional. So that I could read the end of Zafenatpaneach's answer after all, Billy opened the remaining backup copy, which then, after I left the office, disappeared without a trace.

Another perfidious incident occurred at the beginning of this year, when I was working in the hospital to prepare the pictures of the old FIGU photo albums that I have been keeping since 1979, which my son Natan is gradually scanning for me, in order to make photo books that take up less space and whose pictures also fade less. When I reworked the pictures from June 1988, which means that I try to bring the pictures back to the unbleached state, retouching away rough scratches and dirt and sharpening the pictures again (by scanning them from the paper pictures they noticeably lose sharpness), I found something on a photo of the access road to the remise that I had completely overlooked when I pasted the pictures into the album, namely obviously three well recognizable blasting ships, above and to the left of the flagpole, while to the right of the flagpole there were two blurred spots that I thought were dirt. Stunned, I called Billy and told him that I would send him the image data on a data stick, because I couldn't believe what I saw. Only one day later I found another four different photos from May and June 1989, on which also ships were shown, although some of them were very small. Only on one picture, which shows Eva from behind while haymaking, a ship was again very clearly visible in front of a white cloud. So I loaded all five pictures onto the stick and gave it to Natan when he visited me one day later. During the next phone call with Billy he confirmed that in his opinion all five pictures did indeed show ships, but he wanted to show the pictures to Ptaah at the next contact to get a last certainty. In fact, Ptaah confirmed at the next private contact with Billy that I had managed to get some pictures in 1988 and 1989 showing Pleiarian ships - and what surprised me the most was the unified statement of Billy and Ptaah that the two alleged dirt stains on the right of the flagpole were materializing ships. Less surprising for me was the fact that I hadn't noticed the ships at the time when I started the albums, because at that time I was usually under a lot of pressure and therefore didn't take the time to look at the photos in detail, which is why I naturally overlooked the ships. As a result, after the confirmation by Billy and Ptaah, there was vain joy in me, which, however, was to be taken away from me unexpectedly and unexpectedly.

A few weeks later, after my return to the center, I asked Natan to pick the pictures out of the albums again and scan them a second time in higher resolution, so that the ships would be seen more clearly in a detail enlargement, because Billy wanted to publish them. But now came the bad surprise! After Natan had scanned the pictures again with double resolution, the new scans did not show any ships at all on the most important pictures! In disbelief I asked him to bring me the pages from the albums so I could look at them with a magnifying glass. And on the pictures was - nothing! From the photographed ships there was no shadow and no breath to be seen on the photos! Of course, we immediately showed Billy the new scans and also the pictures from the albums where the ships were now missing - and he didn't even react surprised, but just said that such a thing was quite possible and fitted to the other mysterious incidents in the center.

Natan and I still can't explain what really happened. The fact that he had dirt on the glass pane of the device during the first scan, which looked like five ships grouped around the flagpole in the center, can be excluded, because I should have found the same dirt on the following scans, the more so as I had already explicitly asked for it at the beginning had been looking for. So only one conclusion remains - in the months between the first and second scan, the original images in the albums must have been manipulated. HOW, that remains a mystery, but after all we have experienced so far, it is absolutely possible and also probable. The purpose of the manipulation is also clear, because if Billy would publish the pictures, which only confirm his own recordings and statements because they were made by a person who has no contact to aliens himself and never claimed to have, and the ships on the original pictures are no longer detectable, then it can only be a fraud, which would also make Billy's recordings unbelievable.

Basically, then, it is obviously generally a matter of damaging Billy, of exposing him as untrustworthy and of taking power away from his words, so that people do not get the idea from the outset that even the smallest iota of what he experiences and says and predicts will be taken seriously and reconsidered in any way, which could then result in people very slowly waking up and rethinking. If it is not possible to annoy him by the attacks and various manipulations that come from all sides and to force him to give up his mission because he simply does not react to them and consistently stays on his way and he is obviously too strong to make him 'harmless' by physical damage through accidents or murder attacks, then at least no attempt should be spared to make him untrustworthy and ridiculous and to torpedo his work.

The only question is who has such power and such opportunities to mess with and challenge the forces that Billy works with and has at his disposal? Billy and the Plejars, as well as various core group members, have for years suspected or suspected that they must be nothing more than religious sectarian forces. However, while we have long assumed that certain people were directed by these forces, the Sonaans, who have been working closely with the Plejars on this issue for many years, have only recently been able to prove that in all cases it is the sectarian religious forces themselves that are apparently so powerful on our earth that they can manifest themselves and cause all kinds of phenomena. What we consider improbable and bad fantasy in horror movies is in fact true and true in every respect for the phenomena and incidents that occur in connection with Billy and his work.

What this is really about, and what the purpose of all these mysterious and frightening, if not frightening, incidents is, was discussed in detail by Yanarara, Zafenatpaneach and Billy in the 714th Contact of January 1, 2019, which is why I am quoting the relevant contact report excerpt here in conclusion:

Yanarara Then I now have the following to explain: As humanity continues to grow and expand, the mass of believers who have fallen into a religious and sectarian delusion is increasing. With this, however, the religious believers increase the ominous energetic vibrations, which have long ago spread all over the world and formed an immensely energetic and powerful energy screen around the planet. From this screen, independently formed and constantly amplifying impulses are emitted to a much greater extent, which also act independently and affect the entire population of the earth in various ways and cause the degenerations within the inner character being to break out. In a perfidious way, these impulses primarily affect all religious believers of all faiths on earth and in them, through the vibrational impulses, their religious delusion is strengthened and accumulated. Consequently, the believers in their confused faith become more and more caught up and inaccessible to real reality and natural truth. From this follows the unquestionable and unquestionable truth that the delusion of faith of every religious believer of every denomination - also of other non-religious devotions, such as philosophies, ideologies and world views, etc. - is the cause of all the objections that have appeared among the peoples of the earth since time immemorial and that have degenerated to the extent that they can be imagined.

Every belief of any form corresponds to an uncontrollable delusion, which is based only in an imagination, which arises both from external misunderstood influences and suggestive persuasions, etc., but also from a sensory illusion, conceit, illusion, lie, deception or self-deception, a deception, appearance, deception, pretence, cunning, evasion or trickery, from a will-o'-the-wisp, a mystification, a bluff, hocus-pocus or from deception. And this also proves that any faith of any kind has been the cause of all human degeneration since ancient times, and indeed of all the horrible, disgraceful, as well as terrible and dreadful acts of violence of all kinds that have taken place. And this is true for strife and hatred, vindictiveness, jealousy and

Vice, vengefulness, killing and murder of all forms, torture, thievery, fraud and all other degenerate horrors, up to catastrophic and indescribable wars of all kinds, which are contemptuous of every life, every morality, honour and dignity and unbearable. This begins with food wars, wars of insult, feud wars, family wars, race wars, wars of religion and belief, wars of the sexes, wars of nobility, civil wars and wars of nations up to world wars. In addition, our research back into the distant past has undoubtedly shown that the fundamental origin of every single degenerated event and occurrence over all times of all centuries and millennia is the religiously faith-based vibrations and impulses, which were to be found as the first and last cause.

Through every religious delusion, as well as through other forms of belief, the vibrational impulses of the hidden, degenerated impulses, which smoulder in the inner character being, are intensified. These impulses are without distinction present in all human beings in the form of degenerations of all kinds with regard to malice, hatred, lies, deceit, revenge, violence, jealousy, killing and murder, terror and war, destruction, extermination and extermination and other dangerously smouldering impulses. Further, through these vibrational impulses, all the inner smouldering violent and degenerate degenerations of the inner emotions are so hidden by the delusional religious beliefs that they are unrecognizable and invisible to the outside as malignant imperfections, while they are constantly maintained as negative malignant inner emotions. In the most dangerous way everything then results when these degenerate and malignant inner impulses break out and, in every conceivable violent respect, work outwardly in an uncontrollable way and bring disaster.

The outbreak of evil and violence smouldering in the inner emotions of the believers occurs when they are unable to maintain the outer hiding of their degenerated inner emotions through their delusional faith. When this happens, the malignant inner movements break through uncontrollably to the outside and lead to violence. And that this happens, only little is required for it, such as e.g. by the believers being hated or harmed in some way, such as through words, an insult, race difference, through quarrelling, lying or cheating, theft, slander, jealousy, assault, difference of faith etc., but even a simple difference of opinion or an unintentional touch on the body can be the cause.

By the outbreak and release of the malicious and dangerous inner impulses veiled by faith, the believers are driven to malicious acts of violence, which spread to killings and murders, but also to hatred of all kinds, such as racial hatred, xenophobia, hatred of truth, hatred of justice and jealousy, etc. Further, however, envy, lies, fraud, acts of war, terrorism and various criminal, criminal, inhuman acts and deeds as well as all kinds of vices and addictions, etc., also arise.

The hatred is spreading again, especially in the present day, and very violently in relation to racial hatred, which is once again on the rise again, with a new hatred of the rapidly spreading anti-Semitism which has been spreading again for some time, which has a constantly increasing effect on Israel and the Jewish faithful and has an emotionalizing effect on a great many unstable Christian believers, which also happens in a malicious way through the energetic vibrational impulses of all people who have fallen away from God, whose faith also has a malicious effect in this respect and evokes new disaster. This new racial hatred drives especially many believers in Europe and the USA who are adherents of the Christian faith, as well as fanatical Islamists and otherwise moderate Islam believers, to anti-Semitism, which ultimately leads to an anti-Zionism that aims at the extermination and annihilation of Israel on the one hand and of the Jewish population on the other hand, as well as extensively of the Jewish religion and thus of all Judaism and its believers. And if this is not counteracted by reason and reason, then this hatred, which has been smouldering for some time now especially in France and also again in Germany, will continue to spread unrestrainedly.

But what I now have to explain must remain under lock and key with you: ... ..

Zafenatpaneach I think that everything has been clarified and said in this respect, while I still have the following to say about your computer work, where you are constantly being damaged. After 17 years of research and clarification, it has now been clearly established that all the strange occurrences that have appeared in your workroom are sectarian-energetic vibrational impulses of the entire earthly humanity, which lives in the delusion of a religious faith. And these sectarian faith oscillations - as Yanarara has already spoken of it - are emanating in their entirety from all believers of all denominations and faiths, have been accumulated and infested since time immemorial, and continuously influence the entire earthly population to all imaginable and in extremely malicious violence, as Yanarara has explained. This also refers to what has been and is happening in terms of all the malicious interference and damage that has occurred in your computer work and has in various ways greatly affected, distorted and disordered your work, and will continue to do so to some extent. This is because you are obviously to be prevented from exposing the untruths of religions and religious-sectarian delusions, which is why the vibrational impulses which have become independent and act independently also increasingly influence and enhance the sectarian faith in terrestrial humanity.

Your energetically powerful consciousness is the cause of all the strange happenings and incidents in your workspace, as well as the extremely unpleasant disturbances, damage and work destruction that occur in your computer equipment. But the cause is not based on the fact that the energy and power of your consciousness would cause the disturbances and damages, because its energy and power is far above any normal, and exactly this is the reason for the strange occurrences in your working room regarding materializations of foreign objects and things up to great values. Also, the energies and forces of your consciousness, which are above any normal, are the cause of the disturbances and damages in your computer regarding your work, which is often destroyed and annihilated, so that you have to do the same work several times. However, when I explain that all this has its cause in the energies and forces of your supernormal consciousness, it does not mean that you would trigger and bring to bear the whole of the unpleasantness through your consciousness itself, for there can be no question of that. The energies and forces causing all disturbances and damages as well as the strange materialization processes are based, according to our, together with the Sonians, almost two decades of extremely precise clarifications, research and analysis, on the sectarian vibrations created by the terrestrial humanity and their self-acting impulses. And through these sectarian oscillations, which have been created by religious delusion since ancient times and which have grown as a result of the further growth of mankind, as well as the resulting further increase in the number of believers of all denominations, all earthly peoples have been influenced by the sectarian faith-based oscillations since ancient times - and will continue to be so until today and in the distant future. And these oscillating impulses result from every religious faith of every believer of every denomination, and every religious, sectarian faith always and in every case corresponds to an uncontrollable delusion of imagination, which sets off oscillations of the same direction. These then connect and integrate themselves into the mass of the existing similar vibrations of all men who have fallen into a delusion of faith, cumulate and are again enormously strengthenedly radiated back to the whole mass of earth mankind who has fallen into a delusion of faith, whereby further and still more disaster is spread. And this happens - as it has happened since time immemorial - by hatred, malice and violence being stirred up more and more degenerating and endless disaster of various kinds continues to spread over the population of the earth and the earth, whereby wars, destructions and annihilation are inevitable, as also as last result exterminations of peoples and groups of peoples.

It is a fact that these vibrations and their impulses are such that the ugly, evil and violent inner impulses, which are hidden by the delusion of religious faith and therefore cannot be seen from the outside, but are inwardly attached to the human being and stir up and ignite him underground. These then break out and species, causing malicious-violent disaster, if any circumstances such as fear, anxiety, pseudo-love, disadvantages, threats, cowardice, distress, hate, jealousy, hunger or suffering, as well as misery, lack, vice, addiction, illness, sorrow, pain, self-protection or depression, etc. to blur the power of the delusional imagination to such an extent that it is no longer possible to hide the malicious and violent inner impulses, but to break them through to the outside world in the most evil ways as malignancies and acts of violence.

Now the fact is, as I have already explained, that your supernormal consciousness - as well as the logic of your thoughts - is the reason for all the occurrences of materializations of various things in your workspace, as well as the disturbances and damages that occur to your work in and with the computer. The energy and power of your consciousness is the cause of all these occurrences, but not in such a way that they would be triggered by your consciousness, for this is in no way the case, for the fact is that through your energies and powers, which you create through your thoughts and feelings in a logical way, you strengthen the energies and powers of your consciousness, making it unassailable and repellent against the faith-sectarian based vibrational impulses acting upon it. In addition, however, it results - and this is the reason why I say that your consciousness is the origin of the whole - that through your energies and forces, which you create and thus strengthen your consciousness, this one such an energetically strong block of rejection against external vibrational and impulse influences has created and works against it, that it is impossible to be attacked by such energies and forces as those which are given from the sectarian delusion of terrestrial humanity. But since your consciousness can neither be influenced nor brought under control by these vibrations and impulses, because it repels and rejects all attacks or lets them swing back, they have an effect on your next or nearer surroundings. In this respect, your workroom is of course the closest environment, which is then affected by the faith-delusion-founding energies and forces thrown back by your consciousness, which emanate from the earthly mass of people affected by sectarianism and can manifest themselves in a materializing way as well as disturbing, distorting and damaging your computer and your computer work.

Already in ancient times these faith-deluded oscillatory impulses have made themselves self-activatingly independent - like an artificial intelligence - and since then they have been working on the one hand self-acting in such a way that they influence the entire religiously believing population of the earth via their faith and tempt it to hide the malicious and violent inner impulses via their faith, but to keep them inwardly further, to strengthen them and to let them degenerate at every possible opportunity to break out. Self-acting, these sectarian-believing vibrations and impulses have a much wider effect by disturbing and damagingly attacking every human consciousness and influencing it in a compelling way to religious delusions and thus to delusions of faith. These oscillatory impulses also have a self-acting effect in that religiously decayed believers, as well as people who are otherwise only weakly or hardly inclined towards a delusion of faith, whose inner malicious and violent inclinations and impulses are mobilized in order to harass, disturb and harm fellow human beings physically or in some other way in a malicious and violent way, whereby as such degenerations also killing and murder can be the final consequences.

If an intrusion into consciousness is impossible, then the whole thing changes in a self-acting manner in such a way that the corresponding energies and forces of the oscillation impulses affect the near or nearer surroundings and cause disturbances as well as damage etc., whereby especially the electronics are susceptible to how this relates to your computer, so you will have to endure quite a bit in this respect in the future. Unfortunately, this will take time, because even though we are trying very hard to further explore the dangerous beliefs and forces and then become their masters, it may still take several decades before we will be able to control them. It took us almost two decades of intensive efforts to detect these delusional vibrations, impulses and their energies and forces at all, because they were absolutely unknown to us and therefore completely alien to us, as well as their extraordinary, dubious, outrageous and threatening effects in many relationships. So we first have to think our way into this matter as a whole, and work our way into it and thoroughly investigate what will take years or decades.

Just as all the above-mentioned facts, including the energies and forces, were unknown to us Plejars and the Sonians, which result from the religious or sectarian delusional beliefs of mankind on earth, which we ourselves were only able to recognize after almost two decades, but which we now also have to fathom and investigate, we also had to recognize through our research that these religious-sectarian-delusional energies, forces, vibrations and impulses are also absolutely unknown to all earthly sciences. Not a single science, and therefore not a single human being on earth, has an idea in this respect, and consequently not even the slightest trace of a clue exists.

Billy Mann, today it seems that only long monologues need to be conducted. But thank you, my friend, because your remarks, like those of you, Yanarara, make all sorts of things clear again. But you said that the delusional energies and forces of the delusional earthlings are being swung back or thrown back by my consciousness, and that they then work in my environment. I think that for a better understanding the whole thing can perhaps be explained as a parable in such a way that the functioning or exercising, accomplishment or effect of the energies and forces in my workspace and at the computer is caused by the fact that my consciousness simply pushes away the sectarian oscillation impulses that occur and forces them to oscillate back, as happens, for example, with two magnets when both poles in the same direction are joined together. If this is done, the rectified poles repel each other and push each other away. This, however, while in my consciousness it is more likely to be a factor that acts as a powerful repelling shield against the sectarian vibrations and their impulses that are thrown away and then cause manifestations in the environment. However, as a parable for understanding I would rather use the magnets.

Although the Plejars or Yanarara and Zafenatpaneach, together with their collaborators, have now found ways to secure the transfer of data to Billy, mysterious changes still occur in Billy's contact reports and other texts, though far less frequently than before. However, the data transfer by the Pleiarian team has also been slowed down enormously, which means that Billy can only retrieve the contact reports three to four times slower than before. Furthermore, everything is secured in such a way that the original data Billy retrieves cannot be tampered with, but 'only' the data in his computer. Although everything seems to be getting a bit better now, it is apparently not over yet, because lately not only falsifications appear in his contact reports, like the last one from June 10th, 2019,

Eine extreme hohe Intelligenz resp. ein extremes grosses Wissen in bezug auf ein Allgemeinwissen oder irgendwelche Formen von Berufs- oder Fachwissen usw. usf. bedeutet in keiner Art und Weise, dass der Mensch auch in bezug auf seinen Intellekt resp. sein Intelligenzium resp. sein Intelligentsein hoch entwickelt wäre. Es gibt keinen hohen Intelligenzquotienten, der als effektiver Wert angesprochen werden könnte ausser in bezug auf das gespeicherte Wissen, das aber nicht mehr als einem Speicherwert entspricht, der abgerufen und ohne jegliche Handlung wiedergegeben werden kann. Dabei können weder eine Existenzangst noch eine soziale Isolation oder emotionale Probleme auftreten, weil die Intelligenz als reiner Wissensspeicher absolut aktionslos ist und aus sich selbst heraus nichts bewegt. Als Vergleich dazu kann ein Computervorgang dienen, wenn ein Suchfenster aufgemacht und eine Suchfrage eingegeben wird, folgedem sich dann einfach ein Antwortfenster öffnet und in diesem die Antwort für die Frage schriftlich aufgeführt wird, ohne dass eine weitere und eigene Aktivität erfolgt. ¶ Dabei werden auch keine Emotionen ausgestrahlt und also auch keine kurze oder anhaltende Unzufriedenheit in bezug auf die Frage, sondern das Ziel der Frage resp. die Antwort wird einfach emotionslos und aktivitätslos über den Bildschirm erteilt. Dadurch wird aber auch die Wirkung der Antwort der fragestellenden Person überlassen, folgedem sie hinsichtlich des Auseinandersetzens, Verstehens und des Umsetzens des Wertes der Antwort selbst zurechtkommen muss, und zwar gemäss ihrer eigenen Leistungsfähigkeit. Und dies ergibt sich in dieser Weise eben darum, weil die Intelligenz nicht dasselbe ist wie das Intelligenzium resp. das Intelligentsein, das durch jedes bewusste Lernen einen hohen Bildungsgrad erreicht und durch die verstandesvernunftmässige Wissenskumulierung die Weisheit bildet. Dabei wird dann auch das ganze Wissen in die Intelligenz transportiert, aber nur als reines Wissen, das gespeichert wird und als solches wiedergegeben werden, jedoch nicht ausgenutzt und also weder umgesetzt noch verwertet werden kann. but recently, web pages or videos with pornographic content suddenly and spontaneously and surprisingly appear on his screen, some of which he can only delete by simply stalling the computer. At the appearance of these new 'jokes', various core group members were present in Billy's office and were able to see with their own eyes not only the appearance of the unwanted pages, but also their contents, as well as Billy's often futile efforts to delete the pages without stalling his computer.

The last 'event' so far was no less than 7 (seven) pages of stupid-primitive and absolutely ridiculous religious-sectarian abuse, which suddenly appeared on Billy's screen on June 26 when he retrieved the 721st contact report. He partially skimmed the pages, and when he realized their level-less content, he simply deleted them, because one of the characteristics of such insertions is that they cannot be captured with a screen shot, nor can they be printed out. Screenshots like printed pages are then simply empty. The only thing that can be taken as evidence are pictures of the 'apparitions on the screen' with a photo camera, such as the one I took of 'God's Love Droplet' in December 2016.

If the whole thing wouldn't be so extremely tedious and nerve-wracking, you might even get something funny out of it, because the whole thing isn't taken personally by Billy and therefore doesn't really affect him, except that it's extremely tedious for him that he often has to do his work two or three times, which he does with stoic persistence and only acknowledges the incidents with a juicy swearword and washes it down with a coffee. It is definitely the case, however, that he never lets himself be put off by such childishly ridiculous 'antics' and does not let himself be distracted from his task, even if this is obviously the purpose of the whole maneuver. Billy recently said to me that now it's all about who's stronger - and that's absolutely no question for me and certainly for all those who know Billy well. In the end, the whole theatre simply shows the quality of the sectarian-religious forces, which are so penetratingly stupid and primitive-laughable that it is absolutely incomprehensible for a person with a normally developed mind and a reasonably intact intelligence. Not only Billy, but also all core group and passive members affected by these stories don't think for a second about giving up or being distracted by these ridiculous and stupid stupid stupid childish whining out of concept or from their task. In any case, these forces reflect precisely the bottomless stupidity and abysmal primitiveness of all religious delusionists and sectarians - and this is what makes them so incomprehensible and perhaps even frightening for unenlightened people.

Addendum: Mysterious incidents: As was to be expected, since the latter 'event', events have continued in various ways.
Accident: Through self-initiative and self-healing, all accident damage is now completely healed and the entire shoulder, upper and lower arm, elbow, hand, wrist and all fingers are painless and fully functional again as before the accident.

The symbol of peace

The false symbol of peace - the <rune of death>, which today is spread worldwide and which originates from the Celtic Futhark runes or runes of the Futhark family. is the actual epitome of negative influences and creates destructive vibrations regarding discord, feud and hatred, revenge, vice, addictions and bondage, because the <death rune> means for many people reminiscences of the NACI time, of death, ruin, ambitions regarding war, terror, destruction of human achievements, basis of life as well as worldwide discord.

Therefore, it is urgently necessary that the <Death Rune> as a false peace symbol, which creates discord and unrest, disappears completely from the earthly world, and that the ancient as well as correct Peace symbol is spread all over the earth and made world-famous, whose central elements reflect peace, freedom, harmony, strengthening of the life force, protection, growth and wisdom, have a constructive effect and help very soothing and peaceful-positive vibrations to break through, which can effectively convey peace, freedom and harmony!

We therefore address all FIGU members, all FIGU interest groups, study groups and national groups, as well as all reasonable and honest people striving for peace, freedom, harmony, justice, knowledge and evolution, to do and give their best to spread the right symbol of peace worldwide and to raise awareness of its dangerous and destructive use the <rune of death>, which in memory of the NEOC crimes collectively
The costumes of the people promote character deterioration, degeneration and disaster.

Spreading of the Correct Peace Symbol The Peace Symbol

The wrong peace symbol – the globally widespread “death rune” which has been fabricated from the Celtic Futhark runes or inverted Algiz rune – is the actual embodiment/quintessence of negative influences and evokes destructive swinging-waves regarding unpeace and hatred, revenge, vice, addictions and bondage, because for many human beings the “death rune” means reminiscence (memories) of the Nazi era, of death and ruin as well as ambitions concerning war, terror, destruction of human achievements, livelihoods as well as global evil unpeace.

Therefore it is of the utmost necessity that the wrong peace symbol, the “death rune”, disappears from the world and that the ur-ancient and correct peace symbol is spread and made known all-over the world, because its central elements reflect peace, freedom, harmony, strengthening of the life power, protection, growth and wisdom, have a constructive and strongly soothing effect, and help peaceful-positive swinging-waves to break through.

Therefore we appeal to all FIGU members, all FIGU interest groups, study and national groups as well to all reasonable human beings, who are honestly striving for peace, freedom, harmony, fairness, knowledge and evolution, to do, and give, their best to spread the correct peace symbol worldwide and to bring forth clarification about the dangerous and destructive use of the “death rune”, which in memory of the Nazi crimes collectively furthers deterioration and neglect of character-"ausartung" and terribleness in the reflecting and striving of the human being.

Spiritual Teaching Peace Symbol

Peace

True peace on earth among the world's population can only be achieved when every reasonable and sensible human being finally takes the first non-violent step towards it, and then, in peaceableness, takes every further step, deliberately and consciously, until the last consequence of becoming peaceful is achieved.
